Shihan Ed Martin aka Papa-san is a long time student and master teacher of the Bujinkan Dojo system founded by Dr. Masaaki Hatsumi Soke Ph.D. Ed received the Bujinkan Golden Dragon medal, the Bujinkan's highest award, in recognition of his self-defense videos.

Papa-san, Ed Martin, is one of a handful of senior teachers carrying on the tradition of Ninjutsu in the world today. At 15th Dan he is the highest rank achievable under Dr. Masaaki Hatsumi. He is the author of many books and DVD's on locks, chokes, cane, self-defense, Chi-Kung, Ojii Jutsu, and knife/weapon self-defense. He travels, conducting seminars and tests for teachers and students of Budo Taijutsu, and still welcomes visitors in his own home in Pennsylvania. He is a senior master in the Bujinkan and a respected warrior who lives with humor, simplicity, and compassion. We are honored to host this event and thankful for Ed's continuing contributions!

Shihan Matt Keiser is the Seattle Budokan Director, and has resided in Japan for more than 16 years, training and transmitting the Bujinkan arts. Matt is a 10th Dan under Dr. Hatsumi and specializes in simplifying techniques for street applications, weapons training, and a focus on using the kukan (space) between attacker and defender coupled with using the body as a whole.

The Seattle Budokan will be hosting a two-day seminar with Shihan Martin, and Shihan Matt Keiser. All levels and styles of martial arts welcome for the "Tighten your Taijutsu" seminar focusing on taking what you already know and making it better. Don't miss this rare opportunity to experience martial arts taught by these respected instructors.
